RIDIN' WEST

Vulcan Boy Makes Pony Trip to The Foothills

Raymond Davis recently made a trip out into the beautiful country of the foothills. He went in the good old fashioned way—the way the cowboys travel.

His ride included a call at High River, where he had a greeting from several of the good fellows from Vulcan who now reside in that town. He went up the Highwood river and stopped a night at the famous Bar U ranch, where he viewed the hundreds of Percherons and the other stock that has given fame to this wonderful ranch and to Mr. Geo. Lane, which, by the way, were only a few days ago the subjects of large and interesting illustrations printed in several of our provincial dailies.

Mr. Davis made Cayley just in time to take in the celebration in that burg on Victoria Day. It was certainly a big day in a small place, and like the many others from here who were over there that day, was delighted with the attractions and was particularly pleased with the win of Vulcan over Nanton in the ball game.

Perhaps the most interesting incident of the trip was the stop at the Prince of Wales' ranch. It is a beautiful spot, and made the more interesting by the variety and kind of stock on the place, which includes sheep, cattle, race horses and other horses, and a bunch of Dartmoor ponies. Of the latter there were twenty-five to thirty pretty little mares, and almost every one with a wee bit of a colt. The sire of these young ponies is a mighty pretty and proud little beggar, and the bunch on the ranch make an interesting sight. On the ranch is a Ford truck and a tractor, both the gift of the famous Henry to our empire's popular Prince.

Nanton was visited on the journey homeward, and here and everywhere on the way Vulcan was discussed as the place made famous by the big team and wheat delivery and the grain production of the district, and known by our baseball record and the real celebrations we always have on Dominion Day.

Mr. Gibson, of the Bank of Commerce staff, left last week-end for the East, where he will meet a friend from ould Ireland, and the two will be principals in one of life's chief events, and may they realize the happiness that they anticipate and that is the wish of their many friends in Vulcan and elsewhere.

WON TWO

Ball Team Wins Money Prize and League Game

The local baseball team has had a good week, and what the Champion paper said about Stier is true. He is a good pitcher and fields his position in great shape. The team has won a good purse at the Cayley celebration and on Monday went up one in the league standing, in both cases defeating Nanton.

The game on the holiday was the feature of the celebration at Cayley, and the result was a source of revenue and satisfaction to Vulcan. Only a few days previously at Vulcan Nanton had won the first league game by a fair margin, but the holiday event was quite a reversal, Vulcan winning by a score of 16 to 6. The boys hit a batting streak and Nanton used three pitchers and couldn't stop them.

But for real interest the league game at Nanton on Monday was all that could be desired. It was the first league game at Nanton and Nanton resolved to win it, and all the time it looked as though they were going to do it. They scored first and were not tied for some innings, and then they stepped ahead, and when Vulcan went to bat in the ninth the score was 6 to 3. Then there was a rally and the score was again tied. Nanton failed to score in their ninth and were not more successful in their extra inning, but Vulcan made one in the tenth and won by the final count of 7 to 6. It was a tough one to lose for Nanton, but a good one for Vulcan to win. It was not errorless ball by any means, but it was of that kind that is great for the spectators, and they were there in large numbers.

Fortune is following the team for at least the week, for on the day the boys were at Nanton and since business people and other citizens contributed generously to a fund for the support and maintenance of the team. And now all that is required is a large attendance at the games, and they will get that if the boys continue to show class and start the games at the time advertised.

LOCAL ARTISTS

Vaudeville Bill by Bard of Our Own People

Under the auspices and direction of The Vulcan Dramatic Society, twenty-five local artists will present a bill of vaudeville at the opera house on Tuesday, June 5th.

There will be twelve numbers, and everyone different, and Ober's orchestra will furnish the music. The printed program detail the acts and name the artists, but of course, do not mention the surprises that will be featured.

It is a home-made show in its entirety, even the scenery and settings being the handiwork of talented citizens, and all are contributing for the benefit of community institutions. This fact and the real merit of the performance should secure a capacity audience. The reasonable admission prices, 50c for adults and children 25c., will make the ticket selling by the cadets easy. Everybody will surely be there.

MASONIC VISIT

Large Gathering of Masons at Vulcan to Witness Conferring of Third Degree

Masons from all quarters of the continent were gathered together at the last meeting of Vulcan lodge, A. F. and A. M. on Tuesday evening last, to witness the exemplification of the third degree upon two candidates. The work was put on in a very creditable manner by the officers of the lodge for which they heard later many favorable comments from visiting members. The seating capacity of the lodge rooms was taxed, there being present upwards of seventy visitors. After the ceremony supper was served in the banquet ball, F. Elves, worshipful master presiding. The usual toasts to King, country and craft were proposed and heartily responded to and then some of the visiting brethern were called upon to say a few words. Then it was revealed that gathered around the tables were masons from all over the far flung American continent, Chicago, San Francisco, Oakland, Kincardine, St. Paul, Toronto, Montreal, Blackie, High River, Lomond, Champion, Carmangay, Calgary and Edmonton, and they all fully enjoyed the open hospitality of Vulcan Lodge. It was a great gathering of craftsmen and one of the most successful ever held in Vulcan, and masons of Vulcan are extremely pleased with the large turnout of visiting brethern, to whom they say "Come again."

The annual masonic picnic was held last year at the Big Bow. This year, it will be held at High River, in response to the kind invitation of Bro. George Young, in behalf of the town council of High River and backed up by Cornerstone Lodge.

SERVING SAM

Vulcan Boy With the American Fleet at Panama

Most everybody in Vulcan knows Frank McDonald, who went to school here and left the district only a couple of years ago. Well, he is now a wireless man in the U.S. navy, and returning from Panama to California, writes to his family from San Diago of the voyage and his observations, and from the letter we are pleased to print some interesting portions.

The letter is written on the ship's stationery, which carries the printed heading "U.S.S. Hull, T.B.D. 330," and he says:

"Panama is about the rottenest hole I have ever been in yet; it is obsolutely no good. I was transferred to this ship while we were there. I got to see them sink the Iowa with the fourteen-inch guns, and believe me, once they got the range they poured the shells in fast, and the poor old ship turned on its side and went down. It was sad; just as she was going down the band played, "The Star Spangled Banner," and everyone was attention. The Iowa was run by radio, and they even fired the boilers, steered, and had it running in all directions from a ship several hundred yards away, there being not a man on board. Believe me, if there is a war and there is any sea-fighting to do, I want to be in at Great Lakes, for those big guns sure rip things up in a hurry."

"We are going to Alaska in July. We are going to accompany President Harding up there. As we have an electrical depth finder on here, we were chosen. They are planning on building a mighty naval base up there. It will be a good trip and at a good time of the year. We will be back in Seattle in the fall and after a short stay there will go to Frisco for overhauling."

"San Diego has a mighty fine climate; every day the sky is cloudless, but it never gets hot. We get out to sea nearly every morning and have drills; this morning they had long range battle practice at thirty miles an hour, the bows of the ship being under most of the time. I watched that aeroplane, the one that made the non-stop flight from New York last week, and it is sure a big one and it was going strong when it reached here."

FATAL ACCIDENT

Former Vulcan Resident Electrocuted at Vancouver

The following, from the Vancouver World, describes the death of a former well known resident of Vulcan, who leaves to mourn his passing, besides his wife and son and daughter, who reside in Vancouver, his mother and brother in Olds, his brother Austin and a sister, Mrs. Stager, of Vulcan, and another sister, Mrs. Flett, of Calgary.

Touching a high-tension wire carrying 2300 volts with the derrick cable he was grasping, Edwin Irving, laborer at the Pacific Construction Co.'s plant at the foot of Salsbury drive, met almost instant death this forenoon.

First aid, given by Frank Moss, storekeeper and first aid man, and efforts on the part of Drs. Goostrey and Walsh, who arrived a few minutes later, to save his life by artificial respiration, proved fruitless, though he breathed for a few minutes.

Irving, in company with other employees, was engaged in loading rocks from an excavation, a large derrick being used in the work. One rock had been placed on a wagon and the chain of the derrick lowered for the purpose of hooking on a second piece, when Irving, in endeavoring to free the cable from some obstruction, which had caught it, took hold of the hook and received the full force of the current.

Sadder, almost, than the fatality itself, was the tragic scene enacted when Irving's young son, aged 14, called to identify the body and broke into sobs as he recognized his father's features.

"It happened so quickly," said Frank Moss, storekeeper, who rendered first aid, "that I was at a loss to know what had happened until they picked him up. I was standing in the store doorway watching the work and I saw Irving trying to jerk the cable away from some obstruction. Then he fell. I did what I could for him, but first aid is useless in a case of this sort. With wet grounds and hobnails in his shoes he hadn't a chance."

E. W. McRea, the first to run to the help of the stricken man, was dashed to the ground by the force of the current the instant he touched him. "I realize the force of that current," he said. "The comparatively small jolt that I received was quite enough for me."

Rev. Mr. McNichol, of High River, spent a day or two last week with Rev. Mr. Brunton.

LOCAL ITEMS

Mrs. Chester Wallace is visiting in Calgary.

Miss Cora Gardner is spending the week in Calgary.

Mrs. M. Wort left Vulcan a week ago, and after a short stay in Calgary will go east to Toronto.

Born, at Vulcan hospital, on May 25th, 1923, to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Adams, of Lake McGregor district, a son.

The building boom in the United States, which surpassed any previous boom in such a short time, seems to have subsided in most parts of the republic, largely due to the cost of construction.

The regular meeting of the Vulcan Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. F. L. Simington, on June 8. A cordial invitation is extended to all ladies to attend. The report from the provincial convention will be given, and also a paper on "The Institute and its Work."

Jack Winn stopped The Advocate man the other day to convey the news that he had just purchased "Ben Steele," a young horse that has more than ordinary promise as a runner, and Jack is the boy that can make them run. He also has "Chinook," a runner well known locally, in training. As the time approaches for summer races and the Vulcan celebration the interest in running horses is revived.

Messrs. Mensinger, on Wednesday made a delivery of wheat that merits mention. It was a load of 600 bushels, convtyed in four wagons hauled by one engine. The wheat was delivered to the U. G. G. elevator, at Vulcan, the town of big loads. Messrs. Mensinger are truly power farmers, for besides the delivery of grain to town with a tractor they operate the machinery on the farm with like power, and this spring created what might be a seeding record, sowing 140 acres a day with seven drills drawn by one engine, and by this method have seeded more than one thousand acres this season. All the big things do not take place in the big places, and surely this would be a sight for the city folks to see.

The A. P. P. intend enforcing the Motor Vehicle Act and to that end laid information against the son of a farmer in the district charging that he did "unlawfully operate a motor vehicle on the public highway, being a male person under the age of 16 years." At tht hearing the accused who was represented by his father plead guilty to the charge laid against him. The Justice taking into consideration that this was the first time this offense had been taken to court here infrected a nominal fine and costs and gave warning that future cases would be more severely dealt with. The section under which the conviction was obtained is Section 22, (1) "No male person under sixteen years of age and no female person under eighteen years of age, shall drive or operate a motor vehicle upon any public street, highway, road, park, parkway, or driveway." The penalty for infraction for a first offense is a fine up to $20.00 and costs.

HIGH WATER

Town of High River almost Inundated River Overflows Its Banks

Business men of High River spent an anxious time on Thursday night when the waters of Highwood River overflowed its banks, causing a great deal of damage to goods stored in cellars and basements. It appears there was a veritable cloudburst in the foothills during the afternoon and the river which was then high began to overflow its banks at various places. The park was completely under water in the evening and Friday morning it rose with rapidity and soon the business streets had rushing torrents of water coursing down stream. Several boats and canoes were plying around all day doing a land office business, conveying passengers to and from their homes. The High River Times issue of this week was conveyed by boat from the place of publication to the post office, in order to catch the morning mail. The Blair Drug Store suffered a loss of over $5,000 when water rushed into basement of store and damaged a large stock of surplus goods.

LOCAL ITEMS

Dr. Wark was a visitor to Calgary on Wednesday.

Dr. Carson made a trip to the city on Wednesday.

Mrs. T. B. Thompson, of Hanna, is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Smith.

Mr. George A. Todd left on Tuesday with a big bunch of cattle for his ranch at Cochrane.

Among those who merit mention for having painted their premises are E. King and D. Cunningham.

Mr. Gordon McNiven, of Biggar, Sask., is visiting in Vulcan, the guest of his aunt, Mrs. E. King.

Mrs. W. A. Schenck went to Edmonton as the Vulcan delegate to the provincial convention of the Women's Institute.

Daily papers of recent date carried the announcement of the intention of Dr. Hughes to locate and practice professionally in Kamloops. Doc is formerly of Vulcan, and if he maintains his record, Kamloops will have a splendid veterinary and good race horse man.

The recent beautiful and bountiful rains, besides giving splendid promise of a good crop, have given opportunity for some more or less witty remarks. One man was heard to suggest that the frogs in this country would have to learn to swim all over again. But the precipitation has certainly "joyized" the whole community. Isn't that a good word?

A picture post card with a little sack attached has reached us from Mr. Jack Thompson from Salt Lake City, Utah, and from the same source comes a Wyoming tourist guide and a program of the "Frontier Days" celebration at Cheyennt, indicating that Jack is getting along on his long trip east, and seeing things as he goes, and also that he does not forget his neighbors in good old Vulcan.

Five car loads of Vulcan people made the trip to Cardston on Victoria Day, the object being to visit the wonderful Mormon Temple, and in this they were delighted, for they were cordially received by the church officials and by them shown every courtesy and given a minute explanation as they viewed the beauty and grandeur of this great structure. Their description of the trip and the sight will induce more visitors from Vulcan.

The school section of the Vulcan basketball team went to Carmangay on Friday last, and in a splendid game with the school team of that town were defeated by a score of 7 to 4. The Vulcan players were Misses Ethel McFadden, Grace McDonald, Ruth McArthur, May Terry, Elizabeth Flood and Addie Flood. Misses Nan Tangen, Irene Terry were spares, and the party was chaperoned by Miss Wylie. The return game will be played at Vulcan on June 6th. This will be the first game of the season here and should attract a large attendance of spectators.

The recent illness of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Marcellus was the deep concern of the parents and a matter of anxiety with many friends. When recovery seemed almost hopeless, electric treatment brought good results, and the wee lad is on the way to recovery. In this connection all will join in paying tribute to the management of the Vulcan Electric Service for starting and operating the plant as an emergency service in the afternoon, for the people of this community are of the spirit that recognizes as well as prompt a good deed.

Those of our people who were over to Cayley on Victoria Day, and there were many, were witnesses of an accident which proved fatal to a young lad named Walker. There was a horse race and several of the runners finished in a bunch, and evidently young Walker thought that all had passed for he stepped out into the course and was struck down by a horse that was some considerable distance behind. It was a violent blow and the lad was rendered unconscious, and never regained consciousness, passing away at the hospital in High River on Monday. Without blame to anyone, it was one of those accidents that might happen at celebrations anywhere, in fact, it is a wonder that they do not happen more often.

Sixty to seventy ladies were splendidly entertained at afternoon tea, under the auspices of the W. A. of St. Aldhelm's church, on Tuesday. The function was held at the home of Mrs. Roy Walker, a pretty place for such an event. A fine home, prettily decorated with flowers, and the green grounds and shrubs and growing flowers, were a delight to the guests. The dainty lunch was served on the verandah, and a pleasing program consisted of songs by Miss Porter, Miss Lacoste and Mrs. Dodds, piano selections by Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Gooch, and a reading by Miss Marion LeBow. It was an entirely successful affair, and incidentally it gave a suggestion as to where a number of the exhibits will come from for the flower show this fall.

THE VULCAN ADVOCATE

THE HOME PAPER

A few of the reasons why the home folks should support it:

1. Because when you were born, it was the home paper that introduced you to the world.
2. When you grew up and graduated the home paper gave you another write-up.
3. When later on you found your life companion and were happily married, the home paper gave you and yours a nice notice.
4. When sickness and misfortune invaded your home, the sad news was carried to your friends and neighbors by the home paper.
5. When you had been successful in a business venture, or had been promoted, it was the home paper that heralded your ability.
6. If you sold out or moved to another location the home paper followed with news of friends and neighbors.
7. When some unscrupulous person tried to injure your character it was the home paper that came to your aid.
8. Because the home paper boosts your town and its institutions, its people, its schools, its churches and helps to promote good fellowship in the community.
9. Because the live merchants offer money-saving bargains and protect you from catch-penny mail order houses.
10. And last when you are finally laid away, it is the home paper that prints consoling news of your demise and that extols your virtues so that hearts of those who mourn are made to feel thankful that the home paper stuck to you from cradle to grave.

COLLEGE EDUCATION

Is a college education a handicap? There are many who take the attitude that the man who spends what might be regarded as the "college years" in getting practical experience in trade, finance or industry has the greater chance for ultimate success in the firing line of business, while to read the reminiscences of millionaires would almost lead to the conclusion that in order to amass great wealth it is at least necessary to plunge into one of the great cities barefooted at an age when the average youth is thinking of his "entrance" examination. As a matter of fact, continues the Financial Post, statistics prepared in the United States, indicate that there are 277 times as many college graduates who have great wealth, as there are wealthy persons who have not had college training. An investigation published by the United States Bureau of Education shows that of all the people in the United States who have performed distinguished service and received high honors, there was: One person out of each 150,000 who had no schooling. One person out of each 37,500 with a common school education. One person out of each 1,724 with a high school education. One person out of each 87 with a college education. The above totals show the comparative chances of no schooling and with the different grades of education. Parents who give their children a common school education give them four times the chance to become a leader and receive distinction that the child of no schooling has. Those who give their children a high school education give them 87 times the chance and the parents who sacrifice and give their children a college education, give them more than 800 times the chance of the child without schooling. Persons without any schooling do become leaders and perform notable service, but the number is few. When this investigation was made there were 5,000,000 persons in the United States who had no schooling and only 31 had earned distinction, while there were 1,000,000 with a college education and 5,768 of these had attained distinction.

MONTANA HAS HER TROUBLES

The Scientific Farmer, published at Mossmain, Montana, reflects the results of the past couple of years drought conditions in Montasa when it asks: "What is the matter with Montana? During the past two years one hundred banks have failed, twenty-five per cent of the farms have been abandoned, and fifty thousand people have left the State."

NEW ACT TAKE EFFECT

Alberta's new debt adjustment act will become effective on June 1st. Commissioner E. J. Fream of the public utilities board, who is commissioner for The Drought Relief Act in southern Alberta, has been appointed director for the new act.

The Slot Machine Tax Act becomes operative on June 1st. This act imposes a license fee of $50.00 per year for these machines. A test case in connection with this Act will be taken to the courts.

EDITORIAL PARAGRAPHS

Brooks Bulletin: Dr. Coue's auto-suggestion treatment is recommended for farmers, moderationists and others interested, in the following phrase to be repeated three times daily before meals: "Every day, in every way, it is getting wetter and wetter."

Cape Town Argus: To argue that because there are a number of men unemployed in South Africa, therefore, nobody must be allowed to enter the country, is absurd. The way to obtain employment for them is to attract newcomers able to start new agricultural, industrial or commercial enterprises in which workers of all kinds would be required.

Halifax Herald: Sixty families, it is announced, are to make an experiment in "Ideal Communism" in a new township in Ontario, some thirty miles south of Fort William. This would seem to be the right way of trying Socialistic experiments, just as scientists work out their ideas and theories in a laboratory before asking for their general acceptance as true and workable.

Johannesburg Times: Half the irritation caused by provincial taxation in the Transvaal is due simply to the favoritism displayed towards some sections of the community and the gross injustice meted out to others. It is not exactly a pleasant thing for a man to have to pay a tax. But he does it fairly complacently if he sees the next man paying it as well. What makes him really angry is when he finds he is paying a double tax in order that the next man need not pay any at all.

Mail and Empire: Every time the bank act comes up for periodical revision there are some people in this country who want to doctor it by prescriptions from United States practice. Now, the United States banking law has undergone very great changes in the last thirty years, but at every stage of imperfection at which that system has stood in all that time there have been Canadian "improvers" who sought to graft some of its unsound shoots on our system ...How foolish it is for either demagogues or well-intentioned incompetents to try to "Americanize" our banking system, the equal of the Stratford Beacon-Herald: The suggestion has been made that every magistrate before taking office should be required to serve a fortnight in a prison in a district where he was not known. The idea is that the magistrate should have some knowledge of what he means when he sentences a prisoner to a term in jail. What a sentence may mean will depend, of course, partly on the institution and partly on the person sentenced. To some it may mean little, for others it may be something terrible. It would be difficult for the magistrate, even after he had served a fortnight in jail, to take into consideration all the factors of the problem in forming his judgment. It is a very difficult problem. To send a man to jail may be to help him to become completely demoralized. To fine him may be to take money from those who are in need and depending on him. One attempt at a solution of the problem would be to appoint as magistrates only those who could be trusted to use good judgment and give them scope for the exercise of discretion.

ARDUOUS TRIP

In the month of October 1915 having heard that a Scotch Presbyterian family, named Pennycuick, had settled out close to the Rocky Rapids on the Saskatchewan river, I determined to go out and visit them, though it meant a journey of a least 250 miles. I left my headquarters at Ponoka, on October 21st riding out on by saddle horse "Colonel"; and went out 40 miles that day to Springdale and on Sunday took three services in that locality and paid visits—then on the 25th hit the Buck Lake trail from Haverigg; this was a muskeg trail full of spring holes and very swampy, it was in a frightful state, unfortunately in one of his struggles in a muskeg, my horse hurt himself, and I was obliged to walk or I should better say made the last ten miles. When I reached Mennehik, the post office at the south end of Buck Lake, I found that my friends there had all gone to their other ranch at Wolf River, 20 miles further west, so I was obliged to camp there by myself and turn my horse loose in their corral.

Next day I set out for the Pennycuicks on foot, carrying a 30-30 rifle—as there were a large number of bears and also timber wolves in the bush out there—and a corduroy coat. I had on heavy riding boots and I had never been out that way before. I walked 12 miles that day, round to the north end of the lake, which is about 8 miles wide and full of white fish. Here I got caught in a bad electric storm, rain and wind, which sent the dead timber crashing down on all sides of me and lashed Buck Lake into a sheet of foam. I stayed that night with an old lumber jack friend of mine named Pete Nelson, and we talked bear stories till bed-time when he gave me his bed and went out and slept in his bunk house. A woman not very far from there had showed me the marks of a bear's claws on her door where he had stood up on his hind legs and clawed the door, when she was alone inside. I left next morning at 6 a.m. and resumed my walk. I got into all kinds of difficulties the first 4 or 5 miles, climbing through slash and brush and got my feet soaked; then after passing the lumber camp on Buck Creek, I followed a nice trail which wound through beautiful pine woods; after awhile I came to the scene of a forest fire, here the storm of the night before had flung the dead timber across the trail. I counted no less than 210 trees down, over and under which I had to scramble and crawl for miles, which was a very tiring performance. The silence was wonderful, and I saw no living thing for miles. After walking about 25 miles I came to a clearing and saw an axe and a dog, so I knew I was near a house and shortly after met a Swede settler; then for the next four miles I waded ankle deep in mud and water and finally reached the Pennycuick's house, who gave me a good Scotch welcome and I stayed the night there sleeping on the floor between two of the boys! My heels were very sore and skinned, as the wet heavy riding boots had cut them. Next morning I walked a mile further to see their son and his wife. I also from the top of their house could see the Power House settlement on the other side of the river, the site of the intended hydro-electric power house and dam, which has never, I think, been completed. This family had sold a fine house in Victoria, the boys being engineers who came out to work there. The outbreak of war put a stop to the project and they were stranded in this wilderness. Then I walked back all the way to the south end of the lake and was laid up all next day with sore heels. I rode and walked back 33 miles through the muskegs next day to Springdale, where I met the mail carrier and finished my journey with him to Ponoka town. Having walked 94 miles ond ridden 73. The Pennycuicks implored me to return and I had planned to do so, but was removed to another parish, and so was unable. They are still living out there.

If you want your wife to listen to what you say, just talk in your sleep, is the opinion of a friend of ours.

FLOWER GARDEN IN SPRING

To all lovers of flowers the garden in spring is a most enjoyable place; here one meets old friends among the spring flowering plants, which, perhaps, one has watched the development of for years. In many gardens, however, there is a dearth of spring flowers, but, as there are so many hardy desirable plants, this could easily be remedied if there is the desire to do so.

As soon as the snow is gone one may have the Snowdrop, Snowflake, Crocus, Chionodoxa, and Scilla among bulbs, soon to be followed by the Daffodils and Tulips. Hardy Primules soon mingle with the bulbs as do the Iceland Poppy, Trillium, Trollius, Doronicum, Epimedium and other early spring flowers; while close behind are the Columbines, Bleeding Heart, Sweet Rocket and Irises, ond many others.

As one looks at the garden as it now is one can picture how it would be improved if, in another year, there were flowers where there are no flowers now; where yellow, red or white could add to the general effect; where a low growing plant or a tall plant would improve the appearance of the border. As one is liable to forget these things after the spring has gone, a good plan is to write on a label or small piece of wood the kind of plant which is desired in each place where improvement can be made; then when the proper time for planting arrives, if such a plant is put there, it will not be long before there will be a marked improvement in the garden in spring, and this method can be followed with good results for the whole season.

Let all who love flowers, then, plan for improvement in the garden next spring; a little improvement each year would soon result in a great change and make the home grounds much more attractive.

An English M. P. knows of two classes of Americans anyway—those who still have a little and those who have a little still.

Hobbies are a good thing. The man or women who has a pursuit outside of the regular or necessary daily task, which is followed not for pecuniary gain or other benefits of like character, but solely for the pleasure that is derived from it, has a form of recreation that, if wisely chosen, may be productive of great good. Everybody should have a hobby.

Last summer 4,000 forest fires cleared away at least ten times as many trees as were cut down for lumber, pulp and paper, and all other industrial purposes. A very large percentage of the fires were caused by careless campers and sportsmen who "thought it would die out" or cast away a lighted match or cigarette end.

NEWS BULLETIN

A Column of Interesting Items Issued By Publicity Commissioner at Edmonton

The provincial government seed cleaning and grading plant at Edmonton has been closed for the season, and no more cleaning will be done until after the grain from the new crop comes in the fall.

The Co-operative Livestock Shipping Association at Coronation reports successful shipments of hogs and cattle to the Calgary Stockyards. On a $9.50 market for hogs, selling expenses, freight, commissions, insurance, etc., absorbed about 50 cents per 100 pounds, leaving the producers $9.00 per 100 lbs. off the cars at Calgary. The shrinkage between Coronation and Calgary was 3¾ pounds per hog. The farmers producing the hogs considered the co-operative shipping very satisfactory.

Alberta purebred cattle which were entered in the accredited herd tests for the year ending March 31, 1922, came through with next to the lowest record of reactors, being second to British Columbia which was the cleanest with a percentage of 4.94 per cent. reactors, while Alberta had 6.03 per cent. The report of the veterinary director general which has just been issued, shows that there were in all 32,043 head of cattle tested in Canada, of which there were 4,740 reactors, a percentage of 14.79, the compensation paid being $533.161.

The provincial government has recently disposed of a portion of the Demonstration Farm at Sedgewick, which was established there several years ago. The half-section sold comprised the main part of the farm, and on which the farm buildings were located. The province still owns a half section to the south of the portion sold, and under the agreement the government retains one dwelling and two barns which will be moved to this part of the farm. It is planned to dispose of the remainder of the farm as soon as possible. In the meantime the half section still held by the Department of Agriculture will be rented for the present year.

CAMPAIGN PUBLICITY

A general activity will soon be astir over the campaign for the coming plebiscite on the Liquor question, and if this work is carried on as has been done previously the publishers are in for a busy time of it. In days gone by it has often been the case that publishers have only allowed space to the side of the question favored by themselves. It is questionable if this attitude is correct or sane. The government has decreed that the people shall decide in what way liquor shall be handled or disposed of and that there will be two sides to the question is a foregone conclusion. Either side then should be sold space in the press for the presentation of their views, just the same as a grocer or other business man sells his sugar or wares to liquor man or prohibitionist alike. The sale of space, however, should not in any way be misconstruded as having anything to do with the editorial columns. The subjects published in the space utilized will carry the message from the advertiser to the reader direct without having any connection with the policy of the paper in which it is inserted. Prices for space should be fair alike to both sides of the question.

Mrs. L. C. McKinney of Claresholm, has left for Winnipeg, where she will attend the W. C. T. U. convention and organize a 15-day campaign in connection with the coming plebiscite in Manitoba.

The Women's Institute of Dinton put on a dance at Dinton Hall on Friday evening, May 18, for the purpose of raising money to be devoted to paying for the recent addition to the hall. A very good and orderly crowd turned out and enjoyed the evening's entertainment. A sumptuous supper was serve at midnight. The addition to the hall is a fine improvement to the building consisting of a stage and dressing room.

TRANS-CANADA HIGHWAY

On Tuesday morning the plans for the Trans-Canada Highway were laid before the Minister of Public Works by Dr. Doolittle, President of the Canadian Automobile Association. So far as Alberta is concerned we will have two branches of the main highway. This highway runs from Halifax to Regina, where it forks, one branch going west by way of Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat, Calgary and Banff to Vancouver, and the other going west by Saskatoon, Battleford, Edmonton and Jasper Park to Vancouver. This will put a main line highway through each of Alberta's great National Parks. Mr. Ross, Minister of Public Works, approved of the plans, and said he intended to make a personal inspection of the Jasper Highway route. He left this week on this trip of inspection.

HOPPER CAMPAIGN

Officials of the Department of Agriculture have completed a survey of the province and have the grasshopper pest eradication campaign well organized and functioning. The central supply station at Edmonton, Calgary, Munson, Medicine Hat and Lethbridge are equipped with supplies for poison bait to meet any demands which may be made. The provincial organization covering the unorganized portion of the country is complete, a number of the officials who were on the work last year being employed. Last year's work has given them valuable experience, and last year's equipment at mixing stations is also available for any work which may be required this year. The same thing is true of the organized municipalities—they are in good shape to take up the work where necessary. It is anticipated that the good results of last season's energetic campaign will minimize the work for this year. The roadside grasshopper has been pretty well cleaned up, any trouble this year is expected to come from the lesser migratory grasshopper. Professor Strickland, government entomologist, is this week in the Peace River country investigating reports from that part if the province.

PROTECT THE BIRDS

A movement is under way to protect the game of this section by enlisting the aid of sportsmen in shooting game destroying animals and birds before they have an opportunity to cause destruction during the nesting and mating season. Plans are being made to have every sportsman interested in game protection, spend some time ridding woods, field and marsh of predatory hawks, owls and crows, weasels and others who annually kill ten times as much game as all gunners combined. It has been stated that the red squirrel alone will kill 200 birds a season, while the great horned owl destroys annually covey after covey of quail. Special efforts are being made to enlist the aid of game lovers against the crow who is described as destroying individually more birds of all kinds, more birds' eggs and young poultry than any other bird that ever flapped a wing. All game destroying animals and birds are classed by sportsmen and game lovers as vermin, and it is expected that vermin hunting clubs can be organized here and that members of established gun clubs will join in the movement by going into the woods and shooting as many game destroyers as they can find.

In Alberta the crows have become very numerous owing to the provinces of Saskatchewan and B. C. having declared war upon them, and they are flocking into this province where they think they will be immune from trouble.

ON THE FRONT PAGE

G. G. Coote, the Macleod member at Ottawa, who is keeping his name on the front pages through his activities on the Banking Committees, is a former bank manager, which explains his knowledge of banking. The Toronto Star says: "He has constantly attended the committee's meetings since it began to sit, and has evinced a knowledge in banking affairs second to that of no member present. Added to his knowledge of the questions under discussion he shows a determination not to be diverted from his intention toward reform.

Have you tried and failed? Many another has failed before you and climbed over the failure to success. God will not forsake you because you failed. No man is whipped in any fight until he gives up. God gives every man, while he lives, a chance to begin again.

ALTA CROP REPORT

Wheat seeding in the province is finished and in many sections the crop is up and looking healthy and vigorous. The total wheat acreage will be somewhat under that of last year, but on the whole it is considered that the seeding was done in better shape and on better prepared land. Oats, barley and fodder crop seeding is now progressing. In portions of central Alberta, where the early rainfall has been light some of the oat seeding was held back awaiting rains. The indications are that considerable oats will be sown this year to be cut for a fodder crop.

Most sections of the southern part of the province report good rainfalls and that the grain is coming along in fine shape. In parts of central and northern Alberta there have been good showers, while in other sections more rainfall is needed. On the 22nd, a fine rain fell in the east central part of Alberta extending from Saskatchewan as far west as Ryley. At Irma there was seven hours' rain, and at Vermilion one-fifth of an inch fell. The Grande Prairie district had a good rain on Tuesday, with lighter rains at Peace River and at Berwyn and in other sections of the north. Today rain is falling at Edmonton and the showers are reported as far south as Red Deer. Last week frost was reported from some sections, but only in one or two spots was any damage to young crops reported.

From nearly all parts of southern Alberta a large increase in the acreage sown to fodder crops is reported. Considerable new Alfalfa acreage has been sown, also a large acreage of corn and sunflowers, indicating that famers are giving more attention to fodder crops and to dairying. Sweet clover wintered well in Central Alberta. Fall rye in some sections is over a foot high. In places the fall rye winter killed where water laid on the crop or where it was not covered by snow.

With anything like a normal supply of rainfall during the growing season, the early crop indications would appear to be very fair, the acreage somewhat less than last year, and the seeding period in most parts very favorable for doing good spring work.

Pasture in the central and northern parts of Alberta is short, and will be benefitted by good rainfalls. Last year's supplies of fodder have been pretty well exhausted.

Any danger of a real menace from the grasshopper pest has not yet developed. The whole country was well organized last year, and the work done is showing good effects this season. The department of agriculture has the organization already in the field and is well prepared to meet any trouble which may arise. So far the reports have not been serious.

BOUNTY ON CROWS

Stettler town and Waverly municipal district have found a new way of fighting the menace to the crops by crows. The payment of a bounty of one cent for each crow egg turned in is being made. In the town alone about 3,000 eggs have been received to date. A bounty of one cent is also paid for each crow's foot. Some of the money is raised by popular subscription. It has been noticed here that there has been a decrease in the number of crows and it is said this may be due to the fact that the birds are now seen travelling in pairs rather than in flocks.

Rev. S. Pike of Barons, has received a unanimous invitation from the Airdrie circuit to become their pastor this conference. Mr. Pike is just completing his fourth year at Barons. Previous to his invitation to Barons four years ago, he completed a three years' ministry at Iron Springs.

Made From The Mildest Cleansers

Palmolive contains Palm and Olive oils. These oils were the cosmetic cleansers used by Cleopatra and kept her skin fresh, smooth and youthful.

Today their scientific combination in Palmolive produces the most perfect of all facial cleansers. Science has discovered nothing finer, milder or more beneficial for the toilet than Palm and Olive oils.

Artful applications of rouge and powder may lend your skin the appearance of smooth freshness. But unless you cleanse the pores thoroughly every day with soap and water, blackheads, pimples and other blemishes are sure to result.

Some persons imagine that soap is too harsh for the face. They should try Palmolive. Its mild, smooth, creamy lather, when massaged into the skin, cleanses without the slightest irritation.

You can buy Palmolive Soap at all first-class dealers.

Made in Canada

REID HILL NEWS

The attention of the Municipality is desired at the Reid Hill cemetery, the whole of the graveyard is a mass of weeds, several of the monumental stones are out of place and as a spot where the sleeping dust of loved ones it appears a disgrace to the community. It is hoped that some steps be taken by those in charge to change this condition and make "God's acre" more in keeping with its object. A few trees planted, weeds burned and grass straightened up and stones placed properly would seem to be all that is desired.

The church at Reid Hill now rejoices in a very nice orchestra, three violins and a piano help to make the musical part of the service one of inspiration and uplift. Miss F. Smith is in charge of the music and her efforts are well rewarded.

Farmers' day, June 17th. All U.F.A. and Women's Institute members are urged to come to church and make the day one long to be remembered. Special music and singing for the day.

ALSTON NEWS

The ladies of the Golden Rule Women's Institute gave a big "birthday social", supper and dance, on May 24th, at Alston community hall. The Champion baseball team played a pick-up team of Alston boys in the afternoon, the result being in favor of the Champion boys. At supper time each visitor was provided with a little sack and card, which entitled them to their supper at a moderate charge of a cent for each year of their age. A bounteous supper was provided, especially the chicken part, and the tabels were tastefully decorated. Music was provided during the supper hour. The dance was largely attended and the music was furnished by the Vulcan orchestra. The ladies of Golden Rule desire to thank all who helped them to make their dance the grand success that it was.

REDUCED RATES

On Tuesday afternoon a delegation of the Western Canada Stock Growers met Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railway officials from Montreal at Calgary, and urged the necessity of a reduction of rates throughout the Dominion. A flat rate for stocker cattle from any points in Manitoba and Saskatchewan to points in Alberta, south of the Red Deer river, and from Montreal to Chicago was especially requested. They also asked for reduced rates on horses to continue until September 15, over the two months allowed. The stockmen's requests were respectfully heard and then were informed they expect an announcement in ten days from the railways as to what action will be taken. This reduction if secured will be very important in view of the promised crop conditions, as there will be plenty of grass in the country this year following the copious rainfalls of the past few weeks. At present the country is sadly depleted of breeding stock and The Times learns that several large ranchers of the district have announced their intention of securing several hundred head, each of good breeding stock. Mr. D. E. Riley, president of the Stock Growers Association attended the meeting and is hopeful of good results from the conference.
